In any case, the parties to such joint account shall each be jointly (together) and severally (individually) liable.
- (3) No one except the client has an interest in the client's trading account opened with EightCap for the purposes of this Client Agreement.

6. SEGREGATED ACCOUNTS

You agree and acknowledge to EightCap that:

- (1) All money and property deposited by you with EightCap, or received by EightCap on behalf of you, shall be deposited to your account and form a credit balance and will initially be paid into a client segregated bank account established and maintained by EightCap and invested in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.
- (2) Such segregation of your money and property does not protect your money and property from the risk of loss.
- (3) Whilst your money and property are segregated from EightCap's money and property, please note that it may be co-mingled with the money and property of other clients and can be utilised as free and clear collateral by EightCap from time to time in respect of open positions, subject to Australian Client Money Rules and Regulations. Such monies and property shall accordingly be treated as the legal and beneficial property of EightCap, subject to an obligation by EightCap to transfer equivalent back to you in accordance with your transaction rights under this Client Agreement.
- (4) EightCap shall be entitled to retain any interest earned on such segregated money or property held or invested by EightCap.
- (5) If you do not provide EightCap with a tax file number or details of exemption, EightCap shall be legally obliged to deduct tax from interest payments at the highest marginal rate plus Medicare Levy.
- (6) EightCap may use the funds, to the extent permitted under Part 7.8 of Division 2 Corporations Act 2001, in the client segregated account to manage its dealings with its counterparties with respect to client positions. You acknowledge that this serves as sufficient written authorisation from EightCap to withdraw without notice to, or further authorisation from you, any money or property deposited into the segregated account to be used by EightCap for this purpose. Further, you have no interest in or claim over the contracts (if any) with any other person or in the accounts into which EightCap lodges or pays the funds which were withdrawn from the segregated accounts. You acknowledge that the balance of your account may not be protected if there is a default in the dealings with counterparties or in the overall segregated account balance.
- (7) Any collateral transferred by you to EightCap or held by EightCap or its counterparties on behalf of you is pledged as a security for any liability that you may have towards EightCap. You warrant that all such collateral is beneficially owned by you and is and will remain free from any lien, security interest or other encumbrance. If you fail to fulfil any obligation under this Client Agreement, EightCap is entitled to sell any collateral immediately without notice and by the means and at the price that EightCap in its reasonable discretion determines. EightCap shall not be liable for any loss occasioned by such sale.
- (8) Financial product trades executed through EightCap are routed to EightCap's service provider, who then facilitates execution and/or clearing on its behalf. Depending on the relevant jurisdiction or exchange, either EightCap or its service provider will be the registered owner of the instrument, within its client omnibus account. The value and dividends are then provided to you by EightCap in accordance with your recorded, and continually reconciled, holdings. However, if EightCap was to go into liquidation, and an administrator appointed, you would be prima facie entitled to fair value for your recorded holdings, rather than holding such instruments in your name directly, thereby placing you in the position of 'unsecured creditors' with the administrators.
- (9) EightCap may enter into arrangements with third-party execution and clearing providers for the facilitation of transactions and settlements, and avails monies received for margin calls and settlements to such providers for this purpose.

7. MULTIPLE ACCOUNTS

- (1) You are able to open multiple accounts denominated in the same currency as or in currencies other than that of the main trading account. The operation of multiple accounts may mean that it may incur additional costs.
- (2) If you open opposite positions in the same currency cross (for example) on the same account, such positions will cancel each other out. However, if you operate several accounts (or sub-accounts) and opposite positions are opened on different accounts (or sub-accounts), such positions will not cancel each other out. Please note that unless closed manually, all such positions may be rolled over on a continuous basis and consequently incur charge based on the 'tom-next rate'.

- (3) Keeping opposite positions open on different accounts will result in both positions being continuously rolled over (and thereby continuously being charged the 'tom-next rate') until manually closed.
- (4) If you have opened more than one account, the margin or collateral deposited on one account will not automatically serve as margin coverage on the other account(s). You may therefore receive margin calls and stop-outs on one account despite having additional margin or collateral available on the other accounts. However, if you have deposited money or collateral on one account, EightCap is entitled to transfer money or collateral from one account to another, even if such transfer will necessitate the closing of margin trades on the account from which the transfer takes place.
- (5) Interest is calculated on the basis of the net free equity of each individual account or sub-account. When operating several accounts, you will be charged interest on the full negative net free equity on any account despite having a positive net free equity on another account. When operating several accounts, you should use caution when using more than one account and understand that the rate of interest paid on positive balance differs from the rate of interest charged on negative balances.

- (6) EightCap may, in its sole discretion and without explanation, refuse to act upon any instruction.
- (7) If you are more than one person, EightCap may act upon instructions received from any one person who is, or appears to EightCap to be, such a person, whether or not such person is an authorised person.
- (8) Persons may only be appointed as authorised persons where they are an employee or director of a corporate client, they are a family member appointed to act in the temporary absence of an individual client, or where they are or act for an AFSL with respect to the relevant activities.
- (9) EightCap is under no obligation to accept any instruction that is not made by an authorised person or to enquire as to the identity of any person providing the instruction if it reasonably believes the person is an authorised person.

- (10) Should EightCap receives any instruction that it reasonably assumes was from an authorised person, EightCap will not be liable for any properly performed action or omission by it in reliance on that instruction.
 - (11) EightCap shall not be liable for any act or omission by it in reliance on any instruction given or action taken by any person acting or purporting to act on behalf of you who is not listed as an authorised person.
 - (12) You are obliged to keep all passwords secret and ensure that third-parties do not obtain access to your trading facilities.
 - (13) Mere transmission of an instruction by you shall not constitute a binding contract with EightCap until confirmed by EightCap.
 - (14) You have appointed EightCap as your agent for the purposes set out in this Client Agreement and conferred upon its authority to do, or omit to do, all things reasonably necessary to perform its functions and all things reasonably incidental to the performance of its functions.

 - (18) In general, EightCap shall act according to instructions as soon as practically possible and shall, as far as trading instructions are concerned, act within a time frame reasonable seen in the context of the nature of the instruction. However, if after instructions are received, EightCap believes that it is not reasonable practicable to act upon such instructions within a reasonable time, EightCap may defer acting upon those instructions until it is, in its reasonable opinion, practicable to do so or notify you that it is refusing to act upon such instructions.
 - (19) EightCap will not be deemed to have any order or communication electronically transmitted by you until EightCap has actual knowledge of any such order or communication. The mere transmission of an instruction by you shall not constitute a binding contract between you and EightCap. The terms of any order or communication electronically transmitted to you may be subject to change or correction. Regardless of the fact that the online trading facility might confirm that a contract is executed immediately when you transmit instructions via the online trading facility, the confirmation forwarded by EightCap or made available on the online trading facility constitutes its confirmation of a contract. Any instruction sent electronically shall only be deemed to have been received and shall only then constitute a valid instruction and/or binding contract between you and EightCap when such instruction has been recorded as executed by EightCap and confirmed by EightCap to you including through a deal confirmation and/or account statement.

 - (5) Should EightCap accept your offer to enter into a financial product transaction, EightCap will issue to you an electronic confirmation shortly after the financial product transaction has been entered into. This confirmation will be in the form of a deal confirmation. Failure by EightCap to issue a deal confirmation will not prejudice or affect the relevant financial product transaction. EightCap will not bear any liability whatsoever resulting from the failure to issue a deal confirmation.
 - (6) You agree to examine the terms of each deal confirmation immediately upon receipt, and further agree that the contents of the deal confirmation, in the absence of manifest error, will be conclusive evidence of the executed deal, unless within 48 hours of issue of a deal confirmation you notify EightCap of any disputed detail in the deal confirmation received by you. Upon receipt of written notice within the 48-hour period of the disputed detail, EightCap will investigate the dispute and with your co-operation, will endeavour to resolve the dispute in good faith.  - (7) In its absolute discretion, EightCap reserves the right to limit the value of financial product transactions you may have outstanding under this Client Agreement. Should you wish to enter into any further financial product transactions, you must seek and obtain approval from EightCap, which EightCap may grant or refuse in its absolute discretion.
 - (8) If you provide EightCap with standing instructions to enter into a financial product transaction when a particular price level is reached in the market of the underlying security, you acknowledge that the price at which the financial product transaction is entered into may not be the same as the price requested by you as EightCap may elect not to enter into the financial product transaction until EightCap have satisfied itself that it can hedge its exposure in the underlying security.

- (2) EightCap shall provide you with contract notes and monthly statements in accordance with applicable laws and regulation.
- (3) It is your responsibility on receipt to carefully check all transaction confirmations and statement documentation (whether received/accessed electronically or otherwise) and to bring any errors or omissions to EightCap's attention in writing within the time specified by EightCap. A stop-loss order is triggered when you have a 'sold' position and the contract is traded at or above the stop-loss price; or when you have a 'bought' position and the contract is traded at or below the stop-loss price. Once a stop-loss order is triggered or executed it becomes a market order, EightCap shall use its best endeavours to execute the market order. - (6) EightCap may, at its discretion, aggregate your orders with its own orders, or orders of associates and/or persons connected with EightCap including employees and other clients. In addition, EightCap may split your orders. Orders will generally be aggregated or split where EightCap reasonably believes it to be in your overall best interests, but you acknowledge that on some occasions the consequence of the aggregation or splitting may result in a less favourable price than your order having been executed separately.

EightCap will try to notify you (verbally or in writing) what action EightCap has taken, as soon afterwards as EightCap practically can, but if it does not, the validity of EightCap's action shall not be affected.

22. TERMINATION

- (4) In the event of this Client Agreement being terminated, a closing notice must be provided by you in respect of all open positions. Such notice must be provided within five (5) business days of the termination date. Should you fail to unwind any open position within the notice period, EightCap reserves the right to close out your positions as if a default event had occurred in accordance with this Client Agreement.
- (5) Termination of this Client Agreement shall not release either party from any existing obligations or from any liabilities for any antecedent breach of any of the terms of this Client Agreement and will not relieve you of any obligations you may owe to EightCap in accordance with this Client Agreement prior to its termination.
- (6) Rights under this Client Agreement can only be waived in writing, such waiver not to affect the waiving party's rights or entitlements in respect of subsequent breaches of the Client Agreement. Failure to compel performance shall not be construed as a waiver.
